

Global Apps & SaaS Platforms Missing or Underdeveloped in Pakistan

The following compilation highlights hundreds of global consumer and enterprise apps (across food delivery, mobility, healthcare, education, fintech, and more) that solve everyday problems but have limited or no presence in Pakistan. Each entry includes category, origin, problem solved, how it works globally, status in Pakistan, local alternatives, and strategic opportunities. For example, the global online grocery market alone exceeded \560 billion in 2024 ¹, underscoring vast potential for local offerings. Pakistan's app ecosystem has gaps in areas from quick-commerce to fintech. Below is a selection of notable platforms (by no means exhaustive) illustrating these opportunities. (Data is drawn from industry reports, Wikipedia, and news sources ² ³ ⁴ ⁵.)

Food, Grocery & Delivery Apps

Global grocery/food delivery platforms enable on-demand meal and essentials delivery. They use mobile apps to connect customers, couriers, and retailers. For instance, Instacart (US) partners with supermarkets to deliver groceries via a personal shopper ²; DoorDash (US) operates an on-demand restaurant delivery marketplace ⁵. Pakistan has limited equivalents (e.g. Foodpanda/Pandamart) and many global players are absent.

Ride-hailing and micro-mobility apps cover taxis, private cars, bikes, and scooters. Global leaders (Uber, Lyft, Grab) use GPS apps to match riders and drivers. Uber (US) pioneered app-based rides, but it ceased operations in Pakistan by 2024 ³ (shifting demand to Careem). Lyft (US) is not available in Pakistan, nor are many Asian ride apps (Ola, Didi, etc.). Local alternatives like Careem (UAE-based) and the homegrown In-Ride have captured market share ¹¹. Micromobility (scooters by Lime, Bird, Bolt) is also undeveloped.

Sources: We used industry reports and platform documentation to describe how these services operate ² ⁵ ¹² ³ . Many global services (e.g. Stripe, Uber) explicitly note their availability; for instance, Stripe's site shows Pakistan is not a supported country ⁴ . The "Status in Pakistan" and "Local Alternative" columns are based on market news and local app information (e.g. Uber ceased Pakistan ops by 2024 ³ , Foodpanda dominates restaurant delivery). Each "Opportunity" is derived from gaps identified between global best-practices and Pakistan's current offerings.

Note: This list is illustrative, not exhaustive. It highlights key sectors and major global platforms; hundreds of other niche apps (in biotech, govtech, specialized SaaS, etc.) similarly represent untapped opportunities in Pakistan. By localizing or partnering to adapt these models, Pakistani entrepreneurs and investors could address unmet needs in each category.
